CO-OPERATION

Secret of Community Development

Operation means to work.

Co-operation means to work together.

Co-operation is the agency of advancement and development, and the watchword of modern progress.

Co-operation is the secret of community development, every citizen working hand-in-hand, shoulder-to-shoulder for the upbuilding of their community and the betterment of its citizens.

Progressive communities are those with cooperative citizens, broad-minded community builders who are not self-centered to the detriment of their co-citizens, but who labor unselfishly to promote the interests of their home town.

Whether that time has yet come or not, it inevitably will come when every prospective purchaser of property in rural districts will want to know beforehand whether the present residents are of a cooperative turn of mind or not; whether they can get together and stay together on matters of community interest. He will want to know also what the prevailing sentiment in the community is with respect to these matters.

We have known of communities where the majority refused to pay a living wage to the school teacher, with the result that the school was of little value because of the poor teachers employed. The only way that enterprising citizens saw out of the predicament was to offer to pay the difference between the wages of the ordinary teacher and those of the better kind. That plan is not practicable even in the case of a teacher; and of course it is altogether out of the question in respect to many other community improvements.

There have been single cases of single families owning land surrounding villages who prevented the development and expansion as long as the members of those families lived. Indeed, we have seen villages remain backward with respect to their schools, their churches, their streets, in fact with all of their public utilities and institutions in a deplorable state, because of the controlling influences of persons opposed to every improvement that involved increased expenditures to be met by taxation.

A community of this sort can have no attraction for enterprising outsiders, and its citizens can hope for no immigration except that of persons of their own kind. Enterprise is attracted by enterprise; the progressive spirit stimulates progressiveness. The stimulus of rivalry is what has made the United States what it is; its wonderful development is the direct result of a national policy that has matched one Yankee's wit against another until ingenuity has been fairly bred into the people as a whole. Inventiveness is in the atmosphere, and there appears to be neither limit nor slackening in the capacity of Americans to meet whatever emergencies may arise.

Communities should be something of that sort; and when they become so, that quality in them will be their most valuable capital. That intangible property, which is not assessed and taxed, will nevertheless be worth more to them and to their citizens than will be the more tangible soil and structures. A community is in this respect like a successful business man; his name connected with a movement is a guaranty of its soundness and its success.

For the live, hustling town, home building adds to the enthusiasm, gives more inspiration and creates that feeling of satisfaction that every citizen, great or small, is doing his share towards making his home town the biggest and the best.

Every home builder is a co-operatist, a developer, a maker of progress, and an aid to a community development. Home building is an evidence of faith in the future of any community.

This illustration conveys one of the most practical, conservative full two-story colonial homes ever designed, and presents many features that will surely appeal to you.

You enter directly into a spacious reception hall which affords direct connection to the main rooms on the first floor and to the stairs which lead to the rooms above.

The first floor plan is divided into living room, dining room, kitchen, sun porch, bedroom and bath, and on the second floor there are four large bedrooms with large connecting closets, two bathrooms, and a screened sleeping porch. All available space is utilized, in which late modern labor and time-saving conveniences are incorporated.

Puente Host to 15,000 at Armistice Day Celebration

All roads led to Puente, the walnut city, on Tuesday.

It was the day when Puente celebrated the signing of the armistice, which the citizens of that enterprising city propose to make an annual event, under the auspices of the La Puente Valley Community League, of which S. L. Watts, well-known walnut grower, is president, and Timothy Brownhill, editor and owner of the Puente Journal, is the managing director.

With more than fifteen thousand people in attendance, and enthusiasm at high pitch, this pageant was the most pronounced success of any celebration ever held in this valley.

The morning's program commenced with a parade of nearly a mile in length, composed of the returned soldiers and sailors of the valley, Red Cross workers, other kindred war organizations, and floats and decorated automobiles from Puente and its neighboring towns—Pomona, Whittier, Covina, North Whittier Heights, Azusa, Glendora, Baldwin Park, and San Dimas.

Covina was represented by six decorated autos and a truck loaded with fifty boxes of Valencia oranges. This truck was the center of attraction from the time it started to the close of the parade, as four young ladies, the Misses Elizabeth Templeton, Ruth Watson, Lucy Warren and Genevieve Matthews, all members of the Covina high school girls' baseball team, showered the crowd with the fruit for which Covina is so well known. The girls were assisted by G. H. and R. L. Cleland, who took turns in driving the truck and opening the boxes. The truck was loaned for the occasion by the Covina Lumber Company. The Covina contingent was led by Louis H. Harris, driving his own decorated car, containing the directorate of the Covina chamber of commerce, Henry Damerel, president, J. N. Hurst, J. N. Wilson, W. A. Viney, J. C. Hutchinson, Jr., and J. L. Matthews. This car was followed by two decorated cars, driven by C. A. Leighton and George E. Blanchard, in which rode the directorate of the Monday Afternoon club and others, Mrs. J. L. Matthews, president, Mrs. C. A. Leighton, Mrs. Frank B. Gillett, Mrs. Dora Higbie, Mrs. C. E. Crawford, Mrs. E. G. Prather, Mrs. J. N. Wilson, Mrs. J. F. Ohaver, Mrs. Dora Shoarer. The Covina Lyric club was represented by a beautifully decorated machine driven by Mrs. Harry Webber, filled by the officers of this musical organization, Mrs. W. B. Thorne, president, Mrs. Fred Preston, vice-president, Mrs. Harry Webber, secretary, Mrs. Frank Johnson, assistant secretary. The car of Benjamin S. Millikan, supervising principal of the Covina schools, was tastefully decorated with silk flags, and with him rode Mrs. Millikan and daughter, Margaret Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Baxter or Glendale. Other cars included Dailey S. Stafford, accompanied by a party of city officials, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crook of Navilla Place and party, and T. A. Merritt in a stripped Chevrolet.

When the procession had passed the large platform on the athletic grounds, to the rear of the Puente high school, the honored guest and orator of the day, Governor William D. Stephens, was welcomed by a selection by the band, following which Madame Ellen Beach Yaw sang a selection, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Henry Damerel.

The governor in his opening remarks said, "This day has been designated not only as Armistice day but also as Welcome Home day that we may celebrate the home coming of the men who represented us on all the battle fields of France and on all our ships of war and in all the camps of preparation. We are proud of these men, not only because they have worn the American uniform in response to a call for service in the bloodiest conflict man has known, but we also honor them more especially for the magnificent qualities they displayed. There was something about their service that far transcended a mere response to military duty."

"Puente and the San Gabriel valley contributed loyally and generously to the success of American arms on the battlefields of France. When the appeal for men was sounded the response from this valley was prompt, spontaneous and in full measure. Not for the love of fight, but for the love of right, they marched and fought. True to the high principles of American manhood—splendid indeed was the spirit they showed."

In closing his address Governor Stephens attacked the Bolshevik element that has been striving to root itself into American soil and pleaded with the listeners to uphold the authorities of peace in eradicating Bolshevism from American.

At noon this immense crowd was fed by a free barbecue dinner by the citizens of Puente. Some realization of this great undertaking can be secured from the fact that forty-four hundred pounds of boned meat had been barbecued for this occasion and not an ounce of it was left by three o'clock. All were served, and the committee having the dinner in charge is to be congratulated. During the afternoon the crowd was entertained by basketball, pushball and baseball games, and the children were amused with merry-go-rounds and the Ferris wheel and a score of other attractions.

The day closed with a mammoth street dance from nine until midnight. A decidedly successful feature of the day's celebration was the chicken and game show housed under a large tent, which attracted many during the afternoon. The mammoth tent which housed the auto and tractor exhibit was filled to overflowing during the greater portion of the day. The auto which attracted the greatest attention was the new "mystery" car which has just been placed on the market by the Overland Company. Several of these cars are expected in Covina during the coming week and may be seen at the Webber garage. The Morrill garage was also represented in the exhibit with several Chevrolets. C. W. Tucker, Covina's photographer, had on exhibition some fine examples of the photographic art, including a number of enlarged photographs of Puente boys who had returned from overseas.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

Monday afternoon the student-body had the pleasure of hearing Miss Mary Gowens, a contralto singer lately from New York. Among her numbers were "Peace," Gertrude Ross; "Autumn Mood," Watchmeister; "Legacies," Mildred Hill; "Deep River," Bunch; "By the Waters of Minnetonka," Lieverance; "Heads Who Hae," and "False Phyllis." She also sang a group of songs from Kipling's "Just-So Stories," which included "The Camel's Hump," "Yellow Dog Dingo," and "Rolling Down to Rio."

The juniors were entertained at the home of Miss Alice Fisher last Saturday night. A complete program had been arranged by the hostess, which everyone present enjoyed.

Friday afternoon the freshman football team was defeated by the grammar school team by a score of 6-0. The game was full of fumbles and many errors were made by both teams. The one touchdown of the grammar school was made from receiving a punt.

Last Friday the first team was scheduled to play Glendale, but the game was postponed on account of the sickness of one of Glendale's men. Next Friday the team goes to Occidental college to tackle Franklin high school, and the following Monday they will play Glendale at Glendale. S. BUTLER, 21.

Harry R. Webber Buys Control in Covina Garage

Little over a year ago the Covina Garage and Machine Shop association, which has one of the largest machine shops in Southern California, and numbers among its stockholders many of the prominent men in this community, agreed that an automobile agency would be quite an addition to the business. So it was decided at a meeting of the directors, and through an acquaintance they were put in touch with Harry R. Webber, who was located at Long Beach. Mr. Webber arrived in Covina last July and took charge of the agency. Since then he has sold over a hundred cars, trucks, and tractors, and has made a host of friends.

Referring to his recent purchase of a controlling interest in this business, he said:

"Primarily my reason for leaving Long Beach at the time was due largely to the shortage of cars we were experiencing, and then too, I had great confidence in the future development of the tractor and decided to locate in a territory which offered an opportunity to acquaint myself with conditions that would surely eventually demand tractors. And in this wish I certainly have not been disappointed. The Cleveland, or Cletrac tank-type tractor, which it is now called, that I have been selling the past season, has most clearly demonstrated its possibilities, and with the improvements which have just recently been made, one of which is a two and half inch wider track, will no doubt result in its being one of the most popular sold."

"Oh, yes! regarding my purchasing the controlling interest in the garage. First, I believe it to be an excellent investment for myself and will result profitably for those who retained their stock, particularly in view of the fact that my experience in the garage and automobile business will enable me to adopt the most modern methods of conducting such an institution, which up until now I have been unable to do owing to the fact of spending my time looking after the selling end."

"The first contemplated change is a modern salesroom and now concrete front, permitting a liberal use of plate glass. A rather unique arrangement will be made for the small special display windows, which will extend six inches below sidewalk and eighteen inches below salesroom floor, thus permitting the display of small accessories without obstructing the view of cars or tractors that might be standing on sales floor. The small windows will be lighted with hidden lamps, and the show room, which will be 40x40 feet, will have the indirect lighting effect."

"On the corner which was just recently purchased will be erected a gasoline filling station with all the conveniences for the autoist. Air and water will be conveniently located and the balance of the lot will be leveled, rolled and tamped with gravel, making an excellent parking space, and I believe will become a popular spot for transacting vulcanizing and retreading of tires with our new expert, which I expect to have established immediately upon completion of the building."

"The sketch has been approved by the board of directors, and specifications and blue-prints have been ordered, and bids will no doubt be in by Dec. 1, and immediately upon acceptance work will commence."

"I feel confident that by the middle of January we will be able to give Covina quite a treat to an entirely new brand of service, and with the Hudson and Maxwell cars, the Cletrac tank-type tractor, and Republic trucks, we hope to do quite well."

BAPTIST MISSION CIRCLE

ENTERTAINED WITH DINNER

Everyone of the twenty-five women who attended the meeting of the Mission Circle of the Baptist church on Thursday of last week at the home of Mrs. George Maxfield, 242 W. Orange street, were unanimous in their praise of the chicken pie dinner served at noon by the social committee, Miss J. L. Cone, L. G. Daniels, and Mrs. H. R. Webber.

The women were also deeply interested in the lesson on "America's Genius for Assimilation," led by Mrs. A. Watson Brown. She showed how a new race has been made in America by the assimilation of the many different races from the old world; how commencing with the eight nationalities at the time of the Revolution and with the forty-seven that are represented in America at the present day, we have solved the problem of assimilation as no other people on the face of the earth ever did. At the close of the lesson Mrs. Brown spoke of the work of the Baptists among the negroes in the south.

Earl M. Bosworth of West Cypress avenue left on Tuesday of this week for the east, planning to be gone for about a month. He will visit his mother in Vincennes, Indiana, and will also attend the international Young Men's Christian Association convention, which is to be held at Detroit from the nineteenth to the twenty-third of this month.

Charter Oak Association Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Charter Oak Citrus Association was held at the packing house of the corporation on Friday. This event is made each year a reunion of the stockholders and their families.

The morning session was devoted to listening to the business reports, a synopsis of which was published in a previous edition of the Argus, showing that the returns for the past season have netted the growers nearly one million dollars. Following the reports, the election resulted in the selection of William Howring, W. H. Collins, H. B. Allan, W. E. Clopine, C. Menefee, Martin Fesler and C. P. Colver to serve as directors for the ensuing year.

The board organized with William Howring as president; W. H. Collins, vice-president; R. H. Middleton, secretary-treasurer; William Hoogendyk, manager; R. T. Chew, bookkeeper; H. W. Miller, house foreman.

The association's funds, which since its organization have been carried in the First National Bank of Azusa, will during the coming year be divided between the First National Bank of Covina and the First National Bank of San Dimas. This change is due to the fact that the association recently severed its connection with the A. C. G. Exchange, becoming a member of the San Dimas Exchange.

At noon a dinner was served in the basement of the packing house to the members of the association, their families and friends.

In the afternoon an address was delivered by D. A. Field, general manager of the Orange Products Company, a subsidiary organization of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, handling the culls and by-products of the various associations, including the manufacture of the "Sunkist" marmalade. Mr. Field gave an exhaustive report of the methods used by the Product Company in utilizing the culls of the associations, preventing them coming into competition with the good fruit on the local markets of the coast.

During the afternoon two educational picture films were shown. These pictures have now become part of the advertising campaign of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. The first picture was entitled "A Journey to Hilt," showing in detail the operations of the big lumber mills of the Exchange, which are engaged in producing lumber for box shooks, millions of feet being used each year in the manufacture of the picking and packing boxes used by the growers. The second film was "The Story of the Orange," showing the orange industry from the time the seed is sown in the nursery until the orange ultimately reaches the table of the consumer.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre E. Letchworth, Miss Elise Kerkhoff and Pryor Letchworth were luncheon guests on Tuesday of Mrs. Rosa Porter and Mr. and Mrs. J. Rutely in Los Angeles. The party attended the matinee performance of Harry Lauder in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Nye attended the press club meeting in Los Angeles Tuesday, taking dinner with the formers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Nye, and Prof. and Mrs. A. W. Nye. The party attended the production of "Civilian Clothes" in the evening.

B. F. Thorpe will be at home from San Diego over the week-end to attend the meeting of the Amphion club. Miss Pearl Loomis of Pasadena was the guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Will Moore.

Mrs. George B. Scofield of Rowland avenue has been in Huntington Beach this week with her mother, Mrs. Cole, who has been quite ill.

Mrs. Osborne, mother of Miss Dorothy Osborne of the grammar school faculty, is quite ill at their home on the corner of Citrus avenue and Navilla place.

J. C. Snively and son, Onyx, and Elmer Boots spent Sunday in Sawtelle with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. King and family of Los Angeles, formerly of Covina, were the guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Prather of Rowland avenue.

Mrs. G. F. Preston of North Citrus avenue, and her mother, Mrs. Hancock, attended the concert given by the Ellis club in Los Angeles on Tuesday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. George Chamberlen spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Riddleberger in Placentia.

Mrs. Siddle B. Rhodes spent several days over the last of the week with friends in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Forbes of Covina were the victims of a serious automobile accident last Sunday. Mr. Forbes has recently purchased a new Ford machine in which he planned to make an extended camping trip taking his family with him. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes and son, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Coffin of Azusa, motored to Pasadena to call on friends. Mr. Forbes did not feel quite equal to driving the machine through the heavy traffic and Mr. Coffin, who is an experienced and careful driver, was driving. As they were returning along Colorado street at the junction of Michigan avenue they were struck by a large machine which turned suddenly into the street along which they were traveling at a reasonable speed and on which they had the right of way. Their car was struck with fearful force and thrown over, the party being thrown into the top which some what broke the fall. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes sustained the most serious injuries. Mr. Forbes having his back wrenched, and Mrs. Forbes' hip being injured. They were taken to the Emergency hospital in Pasadena and afterwards removed to the home of friends. They have recovered sufficiently to return to their home in Covina the latter part of the week. The rest of the party escaped with bruises.

Mrs. Mary Kendall of Long Beach is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kendall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kendall spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Huston of Yucapia.

The Concordia club has planned another of their successful dances for this evening at the Woman's club-house.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cavanaugh of Santa Barbara and Mrs. Mary Newman, who are to give the program at the Amphion club this evening, are the guests today and tomorrow of Mrs. B. F. Thorpe on Cypress avenue.

Miss Beatrice Havlin and Mrs. Hazel McCrary have just received a letter from their mother, who is now in the east with her daughter, Miss Frances Havlin, stating that while in Kansas City, enroute for Phoenix, Arizona, they met Mrs. Crozier, formerly of Covina, in company with her daughter, Miss Ruby Crozier. Mrs. Havlin and Mrs. Crozier exchanged greetings and congratulations as Mrs. Crozier's daughter has just given her first piano recital and Mrs. Havlin's daughter is returning from New York, where she had a very successful tryout with one of the opera managers of that city.

Mrs. O. G. Hoar and Mrs. W. Wolsey were joint hostesses at an elaborate dinner party Friday at the home of the former on Willow and Pacific avenues, West Covina. Roses, chrysanthemums, and ferns were used in decoration, and it was made a day long to be remembered. Covers were laid for about twenty-five, the guests being present from Glendale, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Covina, and Pontiac, Ill. The remainder of the day was spent informally as the guests preferred.

Among those who heard Sir Harry Lander this week were Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Warner and Misses Emma Anderson, Martha Breakney, and Katherine Maurer.

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Templeton of South Citrus avenue will entertain the Newcomers Club Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben S. Millikan will attend the matinee of Harry Lander in Los Angeles Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Studding, who makes her home with her sister, Mrs. J. A. Ennis, in Hastings, Minnesota, joined Mrs. Ennis, who is the house guest of Mrs. Thorne, for a visit over the week-end. Mrs. Ennis and Mrs. Studding are returning to the Hotel Darby in Los Angeles, where they will make their headquarters for a month, after which they will sojourn in Coronado and Pasadena for awhile before returning to their home in the east early in the spring.

Mrs. David Dunne of Los Angeles is the guest for a few days this week of Mrs. B. F. Thorpe and Mrs. Vere Goldthwaite.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bisbee of Orange street entertained at supper on Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Spencer, Miss Maude Blackman, and Mr. Harley Garrison.

The district convention of the Woman's Board of Missions of the Christian church was held in Azusa on Thursday and a large number of the members of the Covina church were in attendance.

Monday Afternoon Club Observes Armistice Day

(Mrs. M. M. Coman, Press Chairman)

Monday was a great day for the Monday Afternoon Club, as first of all, forty new members were voted into the popular organization, making two hundred and twenty-two now on the membership roll. Then the combination program, in which the local Daughters of the American Revolution, the Red Cross and the club joined, was an especially good one; each part and detail of the arrangements fitting into a perfect whole, well suited to the occasion and well worthy to represent Covina's public recognition of "Armistice day."

Very appropriately the first ten minutes were given to community singing under the capable direction of Mrs. Belle Harris, with Mrs. George Phillips at the piano. Standing, the large audience joined with enthusiasm and fervor in singing "America," "Star Spangled Banner," and the stirring strains of "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory of the Lord." Following this Mr. Harold Nigg gave a profoundly patriotic reading from Hon. Franklin Lane's "Americanism" in a fine, earnest way, which added much to the splendid sentiment of the selection. Just what should be taught the foreigner in order that he may fully appreciate the American spirit and so come into an appreciation of real Americanism was outlined.

Particularly attractive and remarkably well posed were the tableaux, in charge of Mrs. Henry Phillips, with Mrs. George Phillips as accompanist with soft appropriate music for each emblematic figure presented. Miss Gertrude Nash, with uplifted torch made a fine Liberty, while Mrs. Grant Chapman as France, Mrs. Carroll Webb as England, and Miss Ruth Watson as Italy were each especially good with exquisite perfection of detail. Mrs. Wallace Reed was statuesque as America, Mrs. C. W. Searcy appealing as the Red Cross and the climax came with Mrs. Martha Webb as Peace, with her olive branches and world-embracing gesture. As a finale, all were grouped in a most effective way, with Liberty and Peace dominating the impressive tableaux.

Five of the high school girls, the Misses Dorothy King, Lucy Warren, Genevieve Matthews, Dorothy and Vesta Ames gave a spirited orchestra number, a patriotic medley, which was greatly enjoyed.

Miss Emma L. Hawks, formerly president of the Monday Afternoon

Club, and prominent leader in the D. A. R., then gave the address of the afternoon, a scholarly and thoughtful discussion of "American Ideals," in which she traced the two great and dominating ideals in all forms of government: the one wholly selfish; the other, altruistic. The first, which is that of our own country, offers liberty, justice and an equal opportunity to all. To this aim we, as a people, are committed. The other ideal was that of the late Emperor Wilhelm, whose personal aggrandizement was the sole ideal. Miss Hawks then went on to show how far from fulfilled our high ideals were, frankly and practically discussing our national failings and present problems. The story of immigration was well sketched, first a simple question of the slow absorption of the immigrants who were mostly of English and north of Europe type, bringing strength and help to our nation, to the decided change which came in 1882, when hordes, swarmed over from the alien nations of Southern Europe, with their differing ideals, customs, tongues and religions, until now the question of the national assimilation is a vital one. Out of this condition has come today a new and wide interest and work in Americanization, not only in religious circles, but by scores of other organizations. In this great and most necessary work, the three strongest hindrances are indifference, greed and race prejudice. Then as to the practical question, as to what we should and could do, the speaker made it very plain that everyone, women as well as men, should have an intelligent interest in these foreign-speaking peoples and their home life, be sympathetic friends, not just cold employers. While our own local problem was that of the Mexican, she felt that kindness, with justice, a square deal with a knowledge of their customs would go far toward solving the question. Some Americans need to be Americanized, as well. In conclusion Miss Hawks declared that never was there a more critical time in the history of our beloved country, that its needs every loyal man and woman, and that we must be ready to answer, "Here am I, use me."

Miss Dorothy Dukes sang "La Marseillaise" in the French, the strength and vigor of her fine voice and her intense fervor stirring everyone present. As an encore she sang the Armistice day hymn, written for the day by Lieut. B. C. Hillman, a Canadian, and entitled, "Freedom for All, Forever." The new international anthem received a most enthusiastic hearing and was roundly applauded. Miss Olive Horton closed the stirring, patriotic program with that magnificent hymn, "The Recessional," by Kipling, sung with an unusual power of expression and depth of feeling. As an encore Miss Horton gave that pathetic yet triumphant song, "The Americans Come." Mrs. George Phillips was the able accompanist.

The decorations were in keeping with the spirit and motif of the day, for flags were used in profusion in addition to beautiful red and white roses and the graceful greenery of the bread fruit tree. Mrs. Wm. B. Thorne, assisted by Mrs. Harry Webber had charge of the decorating for the day. Since the club, through its philanthropic committee, Mrs. H. H. Cushman is to open a rummage store in Irwindale, it was suggested in the business session that a large box be prominent in the rear of the auditorium each club afternoon, when clothing or other articles which can be used in the store, be brought and dropped in it. If half the club membership contracted the habit of bringing just one article each time they came to the club, the store would flourish and the philanthropic committee be accordingly be grateful.

The next meeting of the club will be November 24, when Dr. Francis of Los Angeles has promised to be the speaker, his subject to be, "What America Has Ahead of Her."

NEW MEMBERS.

The following ladies were elected to membership at Monday's meeting: Miss Olive Horton, Mrs. W. W. Bennett, Mrs. C. D. Menefee, Mrs. T. H. Brumjes, Miss Augusta Sanders, Mrs. Herman Allison, Mrs. Thomas Robbins, Mrs. F. J. Cline, Mrs. Lewis G. Archibald, Mrs. A. G. O'Brien, Miss Maude Edwards, Miss Gladys Coons, Mrs. A. By minimizing vibration, it adds 72 per cent to power, without increasing weight or size of motor. The Super-Six motor accounts for the Hudson's unquestioned supremacy of performance, established in winning all the worth-while records.

Mr. H. M. Houser, driving a Hudson Speedster, just returned from Oakland, Cal., having covered 1024 miles. No trouble of any kind, and only one car passed him on the trip. This occurred on the inland route, going to Oakland. Just this side of Bailey's there's a long downhill grade. A "Cad" buzzed by him, making approximately 50 miles an hour. However, on the grade ahead they were still stepping on the Cad, and Mr. Houser passed them, going a little better than 60 on a 12 per cent upgrade. Can't beat a Super.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ill-suffering people today can be traced back to kidney trouble. The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. Kidney disease is usually indicated by weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, backache, headache, stomach trouble, pain in the loins and lower abdomen, gait stumbles, gravel, rheumatism, scurvy and numbness. All these derangements are natural signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL, HARRIS OIL Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your drugstore today and insist on GOLD MEDAL, HARRIS OIL Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL, HARRIS OIL. After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

AXAX Shoulders of Strength

Where the Road Strain Comes

Special Shoulders of Strength built in Ajax Tires support the tread and brace its entire width. Add strength where road strain is greatest. Distribute grinding wear over the entire tread surface.

AXAX ROAD KING

"More Tread on the Road"

Built to uphold Ajax road reputation. Competing with other tires AXAX ROAD KING proves its superiority on city streets or farm highways. Truly, a monarch in quality—a democrat in service. Of AXAX total output 97% is singled out through "Owners' Choice" to replace other tires that came with their cars.

Equip with Ajax Tires. Use Ajax Inner Tubes. Come in and let us prove that Ajax means real economy.

GUARANTEED IN WRITING 5000 MILES

In addition to the above we have Ajax Cords, Hewitt Fabric and Cords. Also Electric Washing Machines and Minier Gas Heaters and Superior Gas Ranges. Look them over.

"Full Measure" Vulcanizing

What we mean is, that when we vulcanize a used tire for you, we do not skimp on the new rubber or materials used, but actually rebuild the worn parts of the shoe. We "re-sole" and re-heal and re-shape the tread and the whole casing, just as a shoemaker does to an old shoe. And our work is just as durable.
